The Discipler’s Commentary
Fill-in Outline for the Disciple
Luke 1

1:1-4 – Luke’s introduction to his gospel: he was Theophilus’s __________________________________________

Key words: “…having investigated everything ____________________________________________”

Purpose for writing: so that Theophilus may know “the ___________________________________________”

A lesson: In order to know the exact truth, we must study ___________________________________________

1:5-25 – The account of the priest Zacharias’s encounter with the angel ___________________________________

Gabriel announces to Zacharias that he will be the father of ___________________________________________

Zacharias and Elizabeth will give birth to a son by ________________________________________________

Zacharias is disciplined by Gabriel because he requested ___________________________________________

A lesson: Asking God for a sign instead of trusting by faith may result in ______________________________

1:26-38 – The account of Mary’s encounter with the angel _____________________________________________

Gabriel announces to Mary that she will give birth to Jesus, the “ ________________________________”

Luke makes it very clear that Mary, though engaged to Joseph, is a ___________________________________

Mary will give birth to a son by _______________________________________________________________

A lesson: With God, _______________________________________________________________________

1:39-56 – The account of Mary’s encounter with Elizabeth and Mary’s __________________________________

A lesson: Sometimes wonderful news from God can result in joyful __________________________________

1:57-79 – The account of the birth of John the Baptist and Zacharias’s ______________________________

A lesson: When we are faithful and obedient to God, ______________________________________________

1:80 – The account of the life of John the Baptist before he became an official __________________________

A lesson: Those who are wholly devoted to God do not necessarily lead an _________________________